NAOMI SAMPLE & THE GO GO GHOSTS

NAOMI SAMPLE AND THE GO GO GHOSTS

We built this Gameboy of Rock'n'Roll... Back in 2001 and after 13 years of building songs just for himself or for Commodore 64 diskmagazines Naomi Sample decided to present his works on the internet. One year later he explored www.micromusic.net and came across a community which told him that there is still a true interest in this chiptunish kind of music. From 2003 on Naomi Sample released some little tracks that were made with Commodore 64 and old-school-synthesizers on various sites on the net. In 2004 Naomi Sample got invited to a show in Brussels / Belgium. He was too afraid to make it on his own so he asked Punkrocker Nolde Royal and Trash-Comedian Timmo to team up with him. They called themselves NAOMI SAMPLE & THE GO GO GHOSTS. After this show they knew: N.S.A.T.G.G.G. should play some more gigs. The shows got more and more punky and action-loaded. Furthermore the songs got fuller and louder. Today they are a real funny live band with a lot of punk attitude. In the end of 2005 they joined forces with the German label MUSIKFLADEN (www.musikfladen.de) which is the right place for their stuff. On "Schubfladen #1" (a 4-track-7"-vinyl-sampler) you can hear their first single NACKEN 1,99 which deals with speaking to animals and eating their meat. Also you can get the second release (a split-7-inch-vinyl with DIE MODERNE WELT), including their song "HEY DJ". NAOMI SAMPLE & THE GO GO GHOSTS these unstoppable punk-pop-bastards are waiting for being booked by you. Or maybe they will see you dancing on a show next to you...
